Easy Pay

Everything about Kitcheck is easy, including the ways to pay.

If there's one thing many years in the first aid industry has taught us, it's that each company, organisation, school or sports club has different administration and payment procedures. So Kitcheck has been designed with ultimate flexibility in mind, meaning you can pay for your first aid kit products in just about any way you want.

You can pay on account, no credit card required.

With many customers, paying upfront with a credit card is not convenient or even possible, which precludes them from using many online service providers (who often insist on it). At Kitcheck one of the keywords is "trust" – so if it suits you better to pay by invoice on account after you've purchased, that's just fine by us.

Using a credit card? Kitcheck is easy, fast & super-secure.

If you do prefer using a credit card for your first aid product purchases, Kitcheck's user-friendly payment portal is really easy to navigate and the security of your details is completely guaranteed. So you or anyone else in your organisation can make credit card purchases using Kitcheck with complete confidence.
